People Arrive

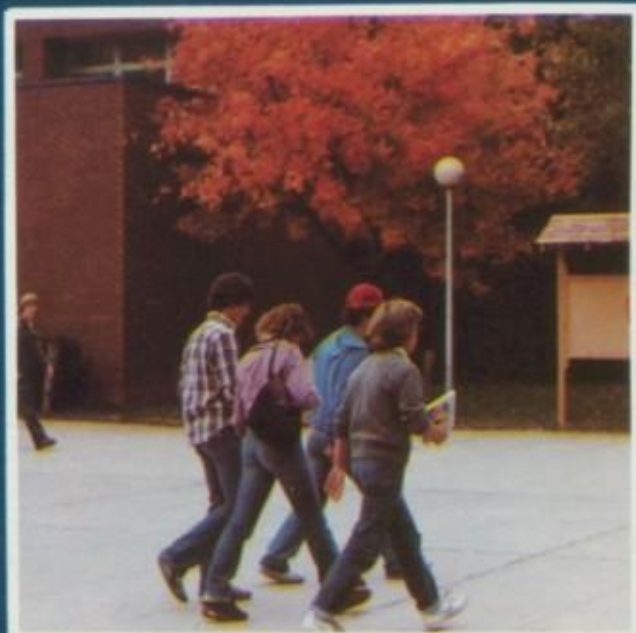

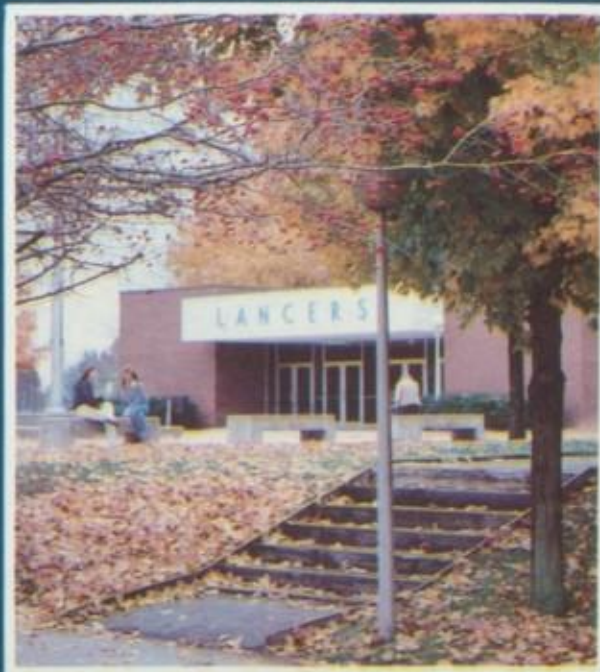

What we looked forward to, what we anticipated, seemed to come more quickly than we realized. We started the year with football and soccer games and of course those horrible long, dreaded tests. While freshmen got acquainted with the school and with each other, the upperclassmen held short reunions in the hallways with old friends. However, before we knew it, it was Loyalty Week, and that meant that the year was officially in progress.

As the weather soon turned much cooler, we suddenly found ourselves sitting in the auditorium cheering on our basketball and wrestling teams. Christmas vacation gave us a little break from the daily custom of homework, but still, some used that time to prepare for exams or to put finishing touches on their term paper.

Second semester arrived and brought a few schedule changes. Day after day, the first three calendar months were quiet and seemed to pass by like a dense fog. Easter then arrived and brought with her the season of spring. Spring fever hit East, and everyone waited impatiently for the first day of sunny warm weather. Tennis balls soon sailed over East's nets, while baseball players strictly dominated our athletic fields. Just as the baseball players have taken over the field, memories have taken over my anticipation of what the 1982- 1983 school year would come to be.

We weren't equipped with the best stage, acoustics, or soundsystem, but talent and dedication were flowing in abundance in the November 1st performance of M*A*S*H.

Looking at the play from an insider's viewpoint, I saw tired bodies applying their makeup with a slow, but anxious hand. Minutes before the first scene was to open, those theatre jitters crept into everyone's minds; but those butterflies were in part responsible for the energy behind each of our characters.

Truthfully, we were all a bit nervous about the play until we heard the first laugh. Having had only three weeks in which to assemble the show, the confidence wasn't at its usual level — until the laugh — until we were accepted.

We were received very warmly but our audience. M*A*S*H has such an altruistic theme, it makes it so easy to relate to the situations and characters without the slightest knowledge of war.

After the curtain call, it was off with mask of olive drab and home to the Trig. assignment, or if the gods were smiling, a warm bed.

I don't suppose that anyone of the cast will dispose of their character completely, for in us all, I see the humanitarian.

Loyalty Week

Loyalty week is exactly what it implies — loyalty to being a Lancer. There is an infinite number of events during loyalty week in which one can take part to show that they are loyal Lancers. This year's themes were: Monday — M'A'S'H day, Tuesday — Get Physical day, Wednesday — Circus-Rodeo day, Thursday — tourist day, and Friday — Lancer Blue day.

An event in which Senior girls can really let their loyalty shine through, is the powder puff olympics. Throughout the competition, the girls have lots of fun and learn about teamwork, which is the basis of loyalty.

Teamwork is also needed as each class attempts to create their own float. Everyone can contribute by going to the sight at which it's built. The finishing touches are completed Thursday night and the floats can be seen being driven down Main St. in the parade on Friday. The football game, which takes place Friday evening, gives everyone a chance to once again show their true loyalty. Loyal Lancers are what Loyalty Week is all about!

Student Council Plans A Full Week For East Lancers

Loyalty week-a tradition dating back to 1966 when the school first opened. Although activities have changed, Loyalty Week remains to help increase school spirit.

Monday, M*A*S'H day, began with an assembly to introduce queen and escort candidates. Powderpuff competition, also, got off to a running start.

Tuesday, Get Physical day, marked the end of this year's 3-act play, M*A*S'H.

Wednesday, Circus-Rodeo day, held special festivities at the mall. East queen candidates were presented to the public. This included a performance from Swing Choir.

Thursday, Tourist day, was a busy night for many. Both hall decorating and float building were given finishing touches.

Friday, Lancer-Blue day, is always the biggest day of the week. During the morning, this year's queen and escort were announced (Diana Talley and Wes Keene). During the afternoon, East paraded down Main St. Then during the evening, the "big" game was played.

T.B. Tigers triumphed in the tug-of-war and volleyball during P.P.O. competition. While in another competition, students triumphed over teachers. Lancer woodwinds "blew" down Main St. This year's Phantoms broke all previous records when over 100 seniors showed to "decorate" their campus.

People Phantom

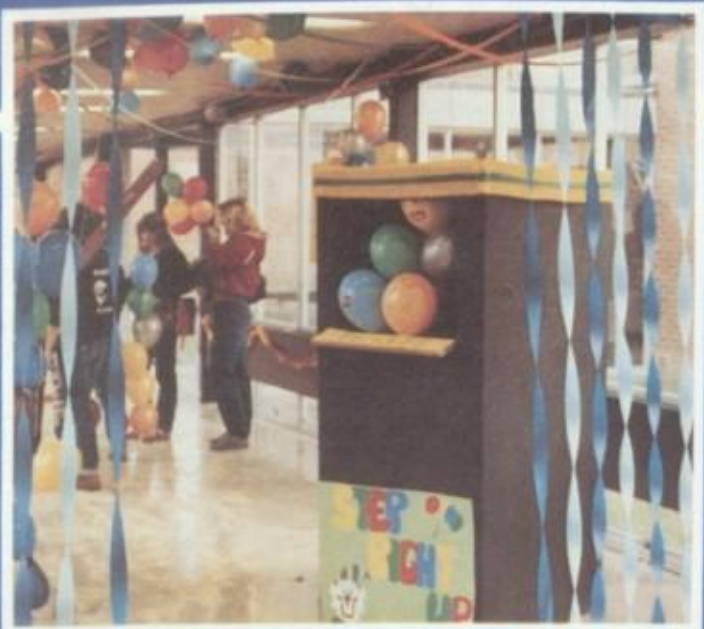

I was abruptly awakened Friday morning with all kinds of cheering and laughing and yelling. I peeked out at the clock in the hall. IT WAS 5:30 IN THE MORNING! I couldn't believe my eyes. It was September 24, and so early in the morning. I staggered to the window and peered out. They were vandalizing the school. Toilet paper and tape were all over. "Class of '83" was written in tape on all of the walls. There were guys and gals telling how they felt to be seniors; something they all had in common. I ventured out onto central terrace, keeping out of sight, of course. Everyone had these masks, like bandits, or phantoms. That's it, they must have been the East Phantoms.

Later I realized that it was the first home football game. I learned that when there was a home game, I should go to bed early Thursday night.

I had a lot of fun watching the students come to school those mornings after the phantoms had left. It really seemed to boost everyone's morale. It started that Lancer spirit flowing.

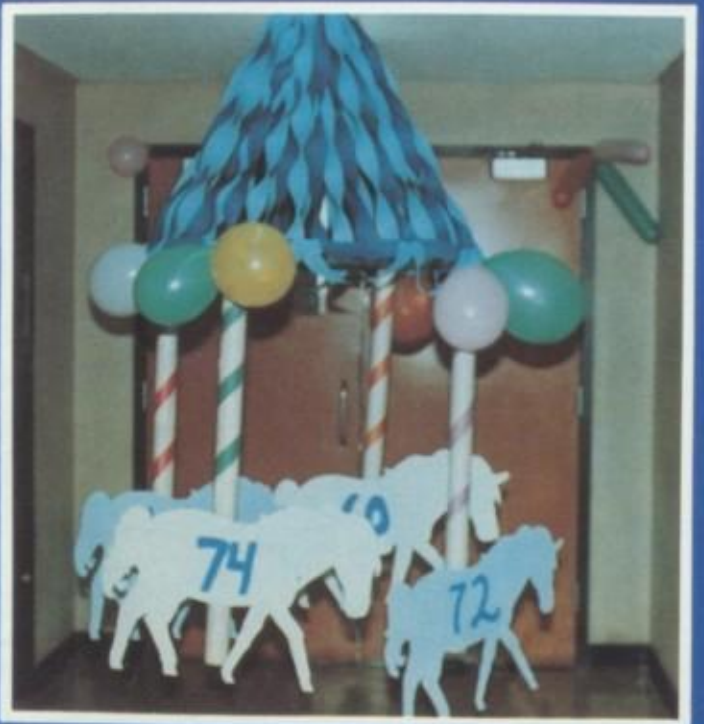

Phantom Mouse

People Decorate

Spirits were high Friday morning as the students walked through the halls, gazing at the artwork that took hours to create Thursday night. Any club that is interested in showing it's talents is eligible to enter a certain hallway in the competition of originality, artwork, and construction. The main purpose is to make an enlightenment upon the loyalty week theme. The theme this year was, "Under the Bigtop." The halls are judged before school. Concert Choir took the lead this year with a 1st place, followed by Office Occupations with a 2nd place, and Distributive Education with a 3rd place. Hall decorations contribute greatly to the spirit of loyalty week. A chance is given to the union if students' talents and efforts, which might otherwise be stifled by everyday life.

Powder Puff Olympics

Powder Puff Olympics is one among many events that takes place during Loyalty Week. It is a group of senior girls who get together and divide into six teams. They meet over a period of four days; Monday thru Thursday from 3:30-5:00 after school.

On Monday the teams compete in events such as, an egg toss, sack race, 3-legged race, wheelbarrel race, and frisby toss. They hit the fields Tuesday with the softball throw, softball relay, relay foot race, and an obstical course. Wednesday is full of spirit with a few games of volleyball. P.P.O. is wrapped up on Thursday with tug-of-war.

Like most other sports, P.P.O. has it's own cheerleaders, but with a slightly different twist. Over the past years, it has become a tradition that each team recruit, and sometimes draft male cheerleaders to keep their spirit high and full of encouragement.

Each team decorates and rides in their own vehicle in the parade on Friday. They flag their spirits, not only for their team, but for their school, and to build the spirits of each and every person.

East Names New Head Football Coach Mike McGinnis

The Business of naming Mike McGinnis the new varsity football coach at Belleville East was handled quickly at the District 201 school board meeting.

That doesn't mean the decision to choose Renn's successor was an easy one. In fact, it was just the opposite. In addition to McGinnis, Dennis Snep and Mike Thompson, also assistant coaches at East, were considered for the position.

"It was probably the toughest decision anyone has ever had to make," commented Athletic Director Dennis Bechtold. "It's unfortunate that the decision had to be made from among those three. I really feel that any one of the three was capable of filling the job."

"A decision had to be made," Bechtold said, "one that I don't think anybody wanted to make. But it was decided that Mike McGinnis be employed as the head coach."

McGinnis also had mixed feelings about his appointment.

"My first reaction is that I'm thrilled," McGinnis said. "This is what every coach always works for. My second reaction is, I'm so close to the other guys I have to feel for them. It's an honor to be selected out of this situation. I'll tell you this, I believe I've got the equivalent of the best coaches in Illinois standing on either side of me."

"Those guys are great competitors and they're very professional," McGinnis said. "That's the key. They're professionals and they both love to coach football. They're top-notch people."

The 39-year old McGinnis is a native of Pittsfield, Ill., and a graduate of Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, where he played college football with Cardinal quarterback Jim Hart. He came to Belleville East in 1967 after one year as a freshman football, basketball and track coach at Christopher, Ill.

His first three years at East were spent on the freshman level. At the start of his fourth season, McGinnis was moved up to the varsity level and has worked with the defensive secondary and offensive backs ever since.

McGinnis now becomes only the second head varsity football coach in East's history. Renn started with the program when the school opened in 1966 and ran things for 16 seasons, posting a 114-36-4 record.

"I'm really excited about it," McGinnis said, "but it's going to be a tough act to follow. A great tradition has been built here at East, and I feel like I've been a part of building it."

People Celebrate

This year's Christmas assembly included many performances from various groups at school. For our musical enjoyment, we heard from the stage band and orchestra, the Concert Choir, and even a few of our beloved teachers showed us their talents on a variety of musical instruments. Also included in the assembly was a performance from East's I.E. Speech Team, and a special dance by a few of our students. The Christmas celebration was concluded, of course, by the annual visit of Santa Claus.

Upon the subject of education, I can only say that I view it as the most important subject in which we, as a people, can be engaged.

Special Assemblies

Q: How Are You?

A: Exciting, Fantastic And Unique!

This was just a small part of the presentation given by Sir Phillip Richardson at a special assembly here at East. Sir Phillip's speech, with his fine English accent, was mainly based on self-image. He elaborated on the fact that a positive self-image is not a sign of conceit. Although Sir Phillip's presentation was filled with humorous anecdotes, his message was deadly serious, and he left us with something to think about. Sir Phillip's speech and entire presentation was well worth it if merely one or two people took his message to heart and gained a better self-confidence.

Ms. Sally Goodwin, a renown harpist, made a guest appearance at Belleville East on January 12, 1983. Miss Goodwin demonstrated to the students at East that the harp can be used for more than classical or 'dreamy' music, by pleasing one and all with several pieces of contemporary music as well as some old favorites. Students and teachers alike truly enjoyed the special assembly.

Computers In Today's World

With the computer age just around the corner, finding computers on every school desk is a great possibility.

In the late 1950's, the computer-aided Instruction organization (CAI) developed the idea of using computers in education, but this concept has certainly not proceeded with the speed some experts predicted.

One of the earliest experiments with computers as a learning aid occurred at Stanford University in the early 1960's. Professor Patrick Suppes and others developed computer programs to aid the students in their lessons.

Also, in the 1960's, Dr. Donald Bitzer developed the PLATO network at the University of Illinois. This network consisted of one large, main computer accessed throughout the school by hundreds of PLATO terminals. A terminal consists of a keyboard and display screen, but sometimes no memory capability exists.

The PLATO network offered 5000 hours of instructional material in over 240 subject areas from first grade reading to graduate-level law and engineering.

One disadvantage of a large, timesharing system is the cost. Another drawback is the slower response time from the main computer. East students have endured with this frustration ever since East purchased the Digital computer from Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) in October, 1978.

The Digital computer is a time-sharing system with one main computer, three terminals with display and one printer terminal. Mr. Norman Hake, East's Computer Math teacher, said that the Digitals have served the school quite well, even though it's response time is slower than the newer microcomputers.

Service on the Digital system is another problem. Without a service contract, repair time has been as much as three to four days. This situation disrupts Mr. Hake's lesson plans until the system is fixed.

For these reasons, small computers are becoming more common in today's classrooms rather than individual terminals connected to a remote network. Apple, Atari, Commodore, Franklin, and various TRS-80 models are more popular because of their graphic capabilities, inexpensiveness and ease of use.

Mr. John Frew, Chairman of the Business Department, is looking for an inexpensive computer with "ease of operation". He has seen four system, but no decisions have been made.

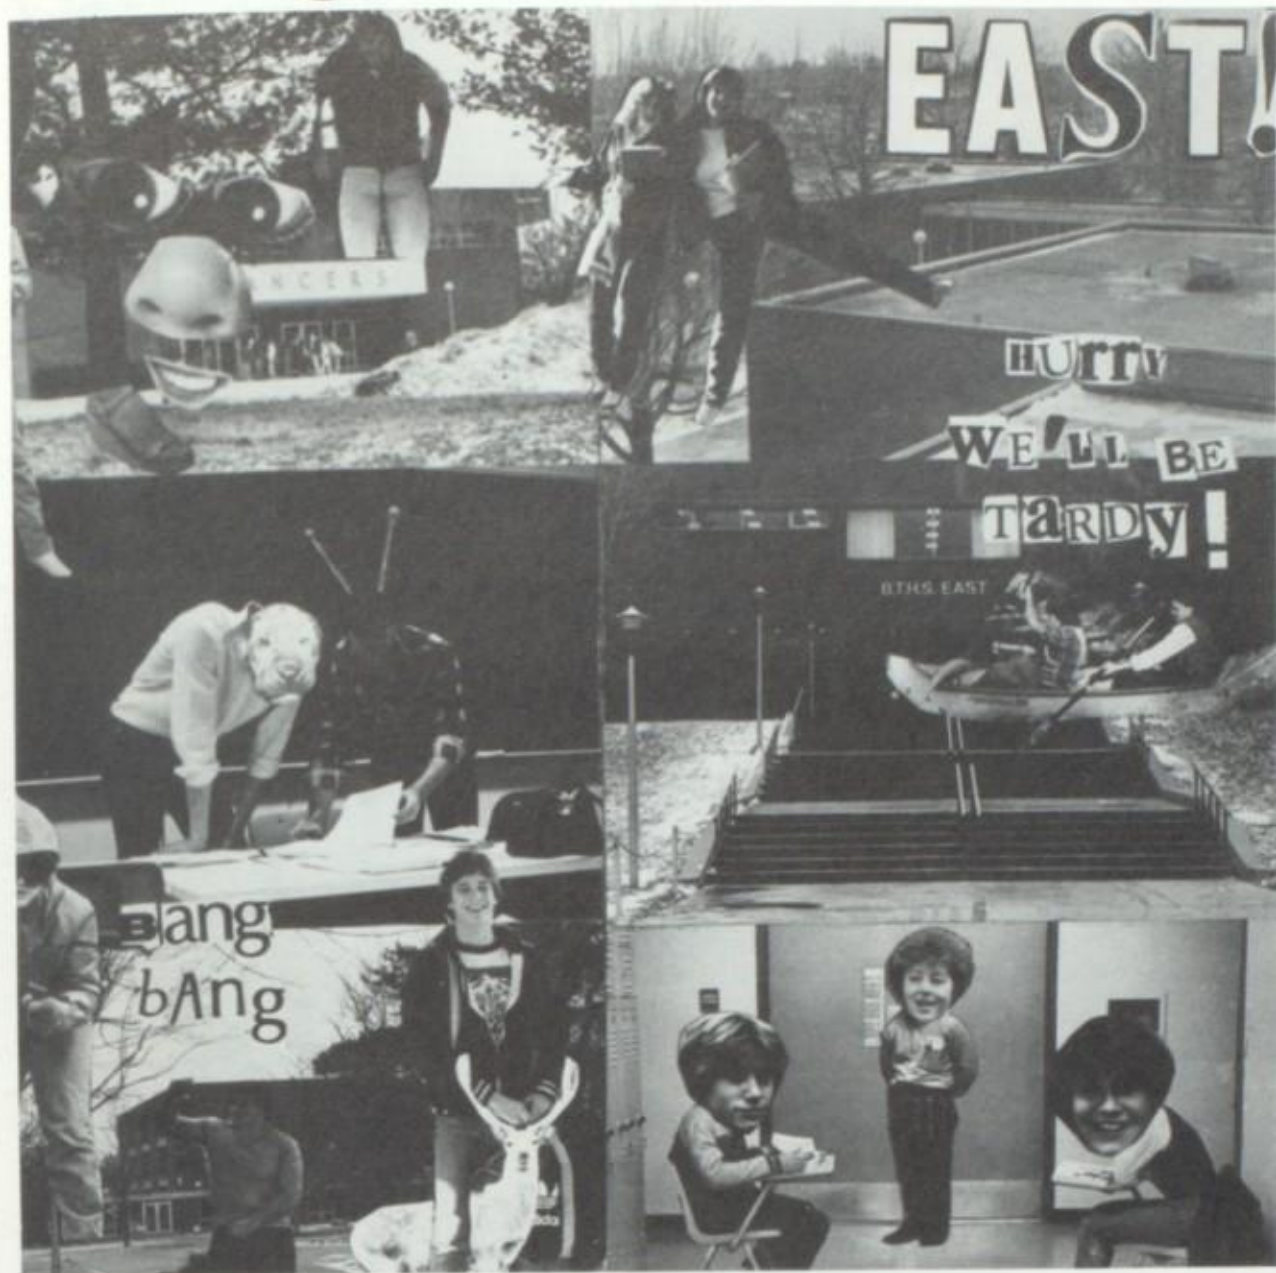

Mr. Frew has already requested two Apple IIe's for the Learning Center. The Apple IIe will be available for students' access later this year.

If the school can purchase at least five computers, Mr. Frew would like to teach "Automated Accounting for the Microcomputer" in his advanced accounting class.

With technology in microcomputers improving and the schools overcoming prohibitive budgets, classroom computer expansion is definitely occurring.

This is the beginning of a New Day.
God has given me this day
to use as I will.
I can waste it
or grow in its light
and be of service to others.
But what I do
with this day is important because I have exchanged
a day of my life for it.
When tomorrow comes,
today will be gone forever.
I hope I will not regret
the price I paid for it.

Signs Of Spring

Mr. Reed and Heather Alves took advantage of the spring weather by playing patty-cake out on central terrace.

A friend is one who knows you as you are, understands where you've been, accepts who you've become and still invites you to grow.

This is a common sight at Belleville in the spring. No, a lake has not been added to the campus, this is just the result of all the rain we get in this area. The 'lake' doesn't create too many problems, other than being a nuisance to those students who walk home through that part of the campus, and slightly hampering the track team.

About the Contest Play:

Contest plays are produced for the purpose of being presented and judged. The production is always a one act play or cutting of a full length play and can only run forty minutes from curtain to curtain. The scenery has to be able to be set up within a thirty minute time period with a non timed safety check. Being a contest play, the judges, usually college professors, will evaluate everything from choice of script or cutting to acting to scenery and costume. Everything must work artistically well together and the success of a contest play lies in the hands of the whole group being able to work together.

THE PLAY

The musical play, "Man of La Mancha", is suggested by the life, loves and adventures of Miguel Cervantes and his fictional hero, Don Quixote, set in the golden age of 16th Century Spain.

MIGUEL DE CERVANTES

Like his contemporary, William Shakespeare, Miguel de Cervantes y Saavedra lived a life only sparsely documented - many years of which are veiled in shadow. These things are known: he was born in 1547 to a proud but improverished hidalgo family; he was taken captive and spent five years as a slave in Africa. Above all he loved the theatre; in twenty years he wrote some forty plays, none of which were successful. In 1597 he was excommunicated for "offenses against His Majesty's Most Catholic Church," narrowly escaping more drastic punishment. He served at least three and possibly five terms in prison on various charges. Aging, infirm, an utter failure, he undertook the writing of "Don Quixote" to make money. Volume I, published in 1605 when Cervantes was 58, brought him fame but little profit. Volume II, appearing ten years later, insured his immortality as author of the world's greatest novel, but he was already broken in body if not in spirit. He died in 1616, within ten days of the death of Shakespeare. His burial place is unknown.

Sports

For most, the 1982 football season began on September 10th when the Lancers crushed the Granite City South Warriors 55-0. The contest was played not so much with pin-point accuracy of finesse as with sheer power football. For the fifty or sixty men in uniform that night, the Granite South game had another meaning, an end. It marked the termination of nearly nine months of preparation.

Since January, we had worked out in our own weight room while some athletes went a step further by training at Nautilus or Spartans. As summer got underway our team started to take shape. We added running work outs to our strength training in order to gain speed. Finally, we had two weeks of double sessions. Anyone who finds pleasure in pain would be tickled to death with these twenty practices. Some players were injured while others just quit. When school started we were left with about 55 men to shape a successful program around.

We entered Township Stadium on September 17th to clash with the always tough Althoff Crusaders. Everyone was pleased with the big victory over Granite but no one was really sure just how good we were yet. At the end of the first half, heavy rains set in and forced postponement of the second half until the following day. A 0-0 tie was broken in the third quarter when we plunged over the goal line to get the game's only score.

After the 6-0 victory over Althoff the coaches as well as the players looked to a scrappy defense to lead our team until the offense could get its wheels rolling.

Going into the third game of the year, against Quincy, we were hungry for our third consecutive shut-out. This, however, was not to be. As a matter of fact, it was the offense that seemed to score at will, whenever points were needed. At the final buzzer it was East on top, 27-20. We finally had some momentum behind us and a firm grip on confidence.

All of this was shattered, however, on October 1st when we lost a heartbreaker to the Alton Redbirds. A steady downpour not only guaranteed to slow down the always quick Redbirds but bolstered our confidence even more. As we screamed "FIRE UP! FIRE UP!", I was sure that we could and would win.

If I were asked for a turning point of our season, this would be it. Going into the final minutes of the contest, the game was a scoreless tie. Our defense had Alton's back up against the wall where a bolt of lightning struck and Alton converted Hail Mary pass into a 97 yard touchdown to win the game. We were robbed of a game we physically dominated and deserved to win.

In the two weeks to follow, we again came up empty losing to cross-town rivals, Belleville West, and Southwestern Conference powerhouse, East St. Louis. What started out as an excellent season had slipped to mediocrity. We now stood at three wins and three losses and no one was happy to be there. A general feeling shared by both coaches and players was that of anger.

On October 22 we vented that anger on the Collinsville Kahoks. Although we were out of the play-off picture, we still had our pride. From the opening kick-off to the final gun, the Lancers controlled the ball and the game, giving us our first victory in nearly a month.

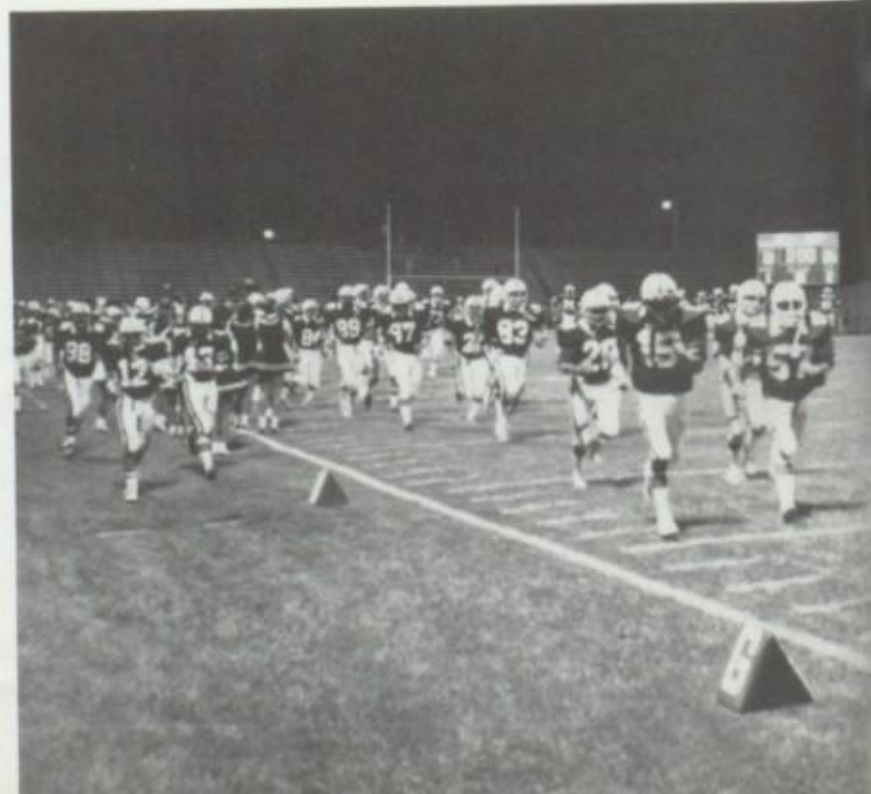

After another disappointing loss to West, our 1982 team went into homecoming with a 4-4 record. Although homecoming was filled with excitement and enthusiasm, all players set their minds to a final game with Chicago Marion. This Catholic team had suffered only one loss their whole year. We ended our season with a hard fought battle, but once again came up empty.

For seniors, like myself, the thought of never again wearing an East football uniform brought tears and hugs. Our season was put in the books as East's first losing football season but no one on that team was a loser.

Football has been the driving force in my life at East. Through football, I've made a lot of good friends and fond memories that I will keep forever. Athletics, in general, has taught me that I can get out of anything exactly what I put in it. I recommend sports to anyone who is hungry to learn and willing to pay the price to achieve success.

VOLLEYBALL

Preparation for the 1982 Volleyball season started early in August with grueling double sessions. The team had a slow start, losing their first game to the Alton Redbirds. Their practice and dedication then began to pay off when they won their first home match against Edwardsville, Cahokia, and East St. Louis Lincoln. The team's first run in with the Belleville West Maroons ended in disappointment but made them even more determined in their second confrontation where they came out on top. The taste of victory was even sweeter when the Lancers battled back to defeat Mater Dei for the first time. In the Belleville West Tournament the team came back to beat Althoff in the last two games, receiving second place overall.

The four team captains this year were seniors Judy Becherer, Anne Gundlach, Robin Brown, and Susan Fleschren. Two assets to the squad this season have been Judy Becherer, who was voted "player with the most hustle" by her teammates, and Erin Gaul, a junior, who was voted "most valuable player" by her teammates. Even though there were some outstanding players, for the most part the members of the squad played more as a team than in any past year. Problems within the team were solved with the help of team meetings soon after they arose. More spectators came out to watch the games this season, which added to the excitement.

GOOLF

The 1982 East golf team, under the new leadership of Coach Dean Renn, posted a 12-4 regular season mark while taking many post season honors.

The season began on a sour note as the Lancers suffered a one-stroke loss in Edwardsville against the powerful Tigers.

East rebounded with consecutive wins against Mascoutah and Alton.

Then the East linxters took their 2-1 record to the Decatur Tournament and grabbed third place honors.

The team was then pounded by the crosstown rival West Maroons on Sept. 13 by a thirteen stroke margin.

Rebounding with a win against the always tough O'Fallon Panthers and a first place trophy at the Edwardsville Tourney, the Lancers then suffered the low point of their season. They took consecutive losses from Edwardsville and Alton.

The squad called a team meeting, did some soul searching, and came back with quadrangular meet wins over Granite North, Granite South and West.

They followed this surge with wins over Mascoutah, Althoff, West, East St. Louis and Collinsville to finish the season.

East's top six golfers entered post season play and players such as Chris Russell, Lance Stafko and Rick Mathison finally emerged to give East the boost it needed.

The team took first at both districts and sectionals, a feat never accomplished before by an East golf team.

The team then finished out the year placing 13th at the state finals.

During the season East's top performers never quite measured up to what most expected. However, they did make then presence felt at districts and sectionals. Chris Russell placed 1st at the sectional meet while Lance Stafko and sophomore Dave MacArthur played good consistent golf.

They received 1st place in the West Round Robin Tournament and two 2nd places and a 3rd place in other tournaments. The team's top 6 players qualified for state. Those players were Lori Cruetz and Beth Stuckey in singles and Holley Mathison, Allison Smith, Amy Buscher, and Cheryl Brown in doubles.

"There are lots of frustrations involved in coaching in a new location — or coaching a strange sport — or coaching a bunch of girls you've never seen before. In the last two years I've experienced the frustrations of a new sport, a new location, and new people. Like all other coaches, I've tried to convince these girls that HARD WORK PAYS OFF! I'm not sure they believe me. But if they are going to compete against any kind of competition, they are going to have to work."

The highlight of the 1982-83 basketball season has to be the two first place trophies East received in the Carbondale Holiday Tournament and the Belleville East Invitational. The Lancer basketball team displayed to everyone the enormous talent they possessed. Steve Switzer also proved himself when he was named "most valuable player" in both tournaments. Unfortunately the team was not able to keep this momentum all season long and ended up with a 10-8 record. Around the middle of the season the team suffered the loss of two starters, Gary Leonard and Mark Going, to injuries. The other players were able to work together to overcome these handicaps, however, and became quite successful during mid-season.

The Girl's Basketball team started practicing for the 1982-83 season in late October. They began by winning their first game against Granite City North. The second game proved to be a bit more of a challenge when they lost to Centralia.

This season the Girl's Basketball team found themselves in the winners' circle at the Mascoutah Tournament for the first time in several years. In the first game they came out on top against Mount Vernon. They lost a disappointing second game to Mascoutah by one point. This put them in a match-up against Collinsville for third place from which they emerged victorious, bringing home the trophy. After the tournament, the team continued its winning streak through the next three games.

In the Hazelwood Tourney the girls won their first game against Pattonville and for the second time this season found themselves in contention. Unfortunately, as in the first tournament, they lost their second game against host team Hazelwood Central. This put them in a contest for 3rd place against Belleville West, but the game was cancelled so the title remained unclaimed.

Through January and February the team played a string of away games, a majority of which they won. The girls ended the season with a 14 and 9 record.

East wrestlers came away from the 1982-83 season with a 12-8 record. The season's highlight occurred when the team captured its 7th regional crown at the O'Fallon class AA tournament. Going into the tournament East was ranked third behind Cahokia and Belleville West. East soon proved to both of these teams that it possessed the talent to come from behind and win. East then went on to receive 13th place in the sectional tournament. The team sent its number one wrestler, Brad Walker, to the state tournament this season. Other members of the squad who contributed to the success of the team are No. 2 wrestler Mark Bartle, No. 3 Brian Wolf, No. 4 Vince Black, No. 5 Jay Barrett, No. 6 Paul Grief, and No. 7 Steve Knoebel.

This year has been full of many successful Student Council projects. It was a great experience being part of the planning of these activities. Loyalty Week was our biggest and best job. I believe that through the help of the representatives and the school, this was the greatest Loyalty Week ever. We also hosted many dances which were a lot of fun. I hope everyone had as much fun this year as I did! We could have never done half the things we did without our great advisor, Mr. Barth!

BAND

This proved to be quite an interesting year for the "Lancer Marching Band." We not only changed directors from Mr. Phillip Paeltz, to Leroy Kirsch, but we also changed our style back to the way marching bands used to sound. This year we played more marching tunes than we did modern. This change was due to Mr. Kirsch. We had our difficulties at the beginning of the season, but we all pulled together and had some really good performances.

Along with our change, we also had more student participation in our programs. The field performances were written around the student's ideas. This was not only fun for them, but it also made the shows more interesting.

I have enjoyed directing the "Lancer Marching Band" for me it was a dream come true. I can't think of any other group of extraordinary people to work with. There is exceptional talent in the band. I am glad that I have had the opportunity to direct them at all the football and basketball games, and the assemblies.

Mr. McCoy To Retire After 17 Years As 1st
Principal Of Belleville East High School

Administration

Charles G. McCoy, Principal

Before Mr. McCoy came to East, he was director of students at two schools in East Moline, IL. Although East didn't open until 1966, Mr. McCoy started work in April of 1965.

In filling the East opening, the Board of Education will search throughout the state, as well as the Belleville area. The new principal will take office on July 1, 1983, and Mr. McCoy will remain at East until the end of August.

In 1981, Mr. McCoy was elected president of the Illinois Principals' Association. Over 3000 high school and grade school principals are members of this group. He first held the post of secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Every year, new problems arise as old ones are put away. Despite small problems developing every year, Mr. McCoy feels that progress continually is being made at East. He believes that East is on its way, if it isn't already there, to being a very prominent school in the state.

As for his future plans, Mr. McCoy stated that he is investigating possible business opportunities in the local area.

(Laureate)

Mr. McCoy was even remembered by East's Phantoms this year.

'83 Class Officers

Kim Bauer (President), Lisa Swanson (Treas.), Sherry Mount (Sec.), Diana Talley (V. Pres.)

During my four years at Belleville East I've seen many Senior Classes come and go. I feel that the Senior Class of '83 has been, by far, the most spirited class I've seen. Like any other class, we've had our ups and downs but, overall, the year has been a good one; who whose memories I will treasure for years to come.

Underclassmen

'84 Class Officers

Kenny Kelley-Jr. Class Pres.

Jackie Donohue(V. Pres), Pam Savage(Treas.), Kim Verbeck(Sec.)

The class of 84 made out well this year with Kenny Kelley as President, Jackie Donohue as Vice President, Kim Verbeck as Secretary and Pam Savage as Treasurer. The class was busy selling hotdogs, hot chocolate, and coffee at football games along with other candy sales and car washes. Some of their earnings went towards Loyalty Week activities which turned out well for the Juniors since they took first place in both the class float and the spirit chain competitions. "This year the Junior Class has shown a great amount of school spirit!" commented Pam Savage.

I feel that no human being anywhere can answer for you those questions and feelings that deep within them have a life of their own ...

I want to beg you, as much as I can ... to be patient toward all that is unsolved in your heart and try to love the questions themselves like books that are written in a very foreign tongue.

Second Chance
Walking one morning
Tears come to my eyes. I thought of my life and all that implies. Tears came to my eyes Not because of my strife; They came to my eyes For the style of my life. I've never been much But an average girl.
I've never done much For this terrible world. A second chance I think would be fine For the world &
her strife For my life and mankind.

SCHOOL DAYS
These past three years have gone by fast.
There's four in all, next year's our last.
Finally free! On our own all!
But why the sudden mellow tone?
The cheers and songs at all the football games
The making faces, the calling names
The silly things we used to do,
In all of these, there's me & you.
Spirit week we dressed up great.
Christmas dance we had a date.
Unsigned notes we use to send.
You tell me now that they have to end?
One year. That's all? Time seems to fly.

School is school, and this year proved to be no exception. Tons of homework accompanied us as we walked or drove home from school. Working hard, as we found out, just does not end in the classroom. It pursues us where ever we go from the moment we arise in the morning to the minute we retire for the night. Thank God for weekends!

Study hall has trapped us again. We are the class of '84, and once more we are the victims of closed campus. Since freshmen year, we were barred from off campus privileges, and this year was no exception. Despite the new rule's popularity, it helped reduce school vandalism, decrease tardies, promote better study attitudes and increase involvement with classroom activities. At first we were enraged by the rule; however, we soon learned to accept it. Once again, we hopefully look forward to the desired freedoms and privileges that we were before so often denied.

True worth is in being, not seeming.
In doing, each day that goes by.
Some little good - not in dreaming
Of great things to do by and by.
For whatever men say in their blindness,
And spite of the fancies of youth,
There's nothing so kingly as kindness,
And nothing so royal as truth.

This year we no longer hear the favorite pop hits as we sit in the cafeteria. In it's place we hear Chitter chatter, the rattling of plates and trays, and giggling from almost every corner. No longer do we hear the constant pounding and banging on the juke box which was always ready to gobble our quarters, nickels, and dimes. One of the main reasons why the jukebox was taken out was due to all its mechanical difficulties. Although the familiar music machine is gone, its absence is not very noticeable.

"Being an upperclassmen, I found this year to be much better than last year, even though we were assigned study hall. This year has gone by the fastest, but I guess that's because this year has been lot's of fun. (Well, not all the time) I'm really looking forward to senior year."

junior Pam Peters

"I think the junior class is one of the hardest working classes. We've been very busy this year working on the prom, floats which by the way, won 1st place, and other activities. Our class, as a whole, is really good not just academically but also industriously. We've worked hard in order to get our jobs done. I think that we'll be good leaders next year."

junior Kim Verbeck

"Our class has really taken alot of interest in the activities here at East. I think that our class is one of the best. If my senior year is as enjoyable as this past one, I'll really have something to look forward to."

One time or another East students are faced with writing a term paper. Most of us spend our whole Christmas vacation working on these dreaded works of length and profoundness. Tons of paper and notecards are a must. I don't know how many times I had to start over again. Frustration was soon my quick companion, and the typewriter suddenly became my constant enemy. Cursing underneath my breath, working steady until the wee hours of the night, losing half my notecards, embedding my room with wadded up paper, and making frequent trips to the library are all a part of writing a term paper.

We've now finished our second year of high school leaving behind the title of "underclassmen." We've taken with us many treasured memories of times spent together, and we've left behind those not so memorable ones. It's been a year of learning and social activities, and with each of these activities we've grown closer. Now we look forward to the years ahead anticipating the good times still to come.

Pep assemblies are special not just because they urge us to yell and shout for our team, but they also give us a feeling of Lancer pride. We're proud to be a part of the Lancer tradition; moreover, we're proud to have such outstanding athletes who give their all to the dedication of their sport. Whether it be basketball, football, soccer, cross country, or track, the Lancers have what it takes to be number one. They have the spirit which has won our hearts. They have our total support and more. Lancers, go to it and show the others what you're made of as we again cheer you on to victory!

You only get out of a situation what you put into it. If you put in a stone, respect that it was your best. However, if you put in a pebble, expect to find something less. No school or teacher can make you learn. You learn only what you want to learn. Although it may require you to focus more of your attention on some boring lecture, take all of your books home everynight, or reach out for additional help, the reward is yours to achieve. Change your pebbles into stone in all situations; and as a result, they'll have more worth.

As the year began, we noticed many changes on campus. Newly built ramps that were designed for the handicapped could be found leading up to most buildings. A new bulletin board was given to the school from the graduating class of 1982. Changes in dress erupted from the punk craze. Mrs. _____ suddenly had dark brown hair. (What ever happened to the gray, I don't know.) However, the most astonishing change took place around the flagpole. For the first time in school history, our flagpole was adorned with names of popular rock groups, couples initials, and various works of art. Although most students liked it, the administration did not. Yet when we came back from Xmas break, we noticed that the administration wanted to contribute to the decorating of the flagpole too. However, their idea of decorating the flagpole was drenching it with plain white paint.

The enthusiasm builds the minute I receive my schedule in the mail. The suspense grows heavier and heavier as my eyes scan down the page. There it is! Driver's education. First I have classroom. What a bore! I was expecting it to be a little more exciting. Next I have simulators. Now there's excitement. For one whole period I was in reverse and didn't even know it. You see, the panel of lights on my car which were suppose to indicate my errors was out of order. Finally, I'm behind the wheel. I was terrified, but I knew that I had to calm down. The thrill that came with the receipt of my permit, my blue slip, and finally my license was overwhelming. Now that I finally have my license, the only problem is talking Dad into letting me have the car!

"It has been an interesting and new experience for all of us. The transition from junior high to high school was a big step. There were many clubs and activities that we could get involved in, and we met many new friends. This first year has taught us alot and the next three should be just as fulfilling."

THE FRESHMAN CHILD

The Freshman Child is oh - so shy.
She silently longs for that sophomore guy.
But that sophomore guy, head in a whirl,
Admiringly stares at that junior girl.
But the junior girl in a dashing sedan,
Boldly chooses the senior man.
But the senior man, handsome and wild,
Secretly loves the freshman child.

As the leaves were turning in early autumn, a group of 526 wandering freshmen rolled into the halls of BTHS East. Nervous and frightened, they struggled to find their way around campus the first few weeks. (However, some needed colored maps the whole semester just to get from D building to E node.)

Despite the teasing, getting lost on campus, trying to open the wrong locker, and being constantly irritated by upper-classmen, the freshmen soon became a part of East.

As the year advanced, we met new people and made new friends. We found new interests and new talents. Friends are our most influential and inspiring groups of peers. Friends. Friends are those who are always willing to listen to what we want to say. Friends are always there to give us a helping hand, whether we need it or not. Friends are people we can have fun with. Friends are those who know how to make us happy. Friends are those who encourage us to perform the best of our ability. Friends are people we can trust and depend on. Friends are always a thought away from each other. Friends are a treasure we don't want to lose.

Loyalty Week is probably the most involved week during school, not to mention the most exciting. There are numerous activities taking place both day and night which inevitably enhance our school spirit. Some of this year's Loyalty Week activities included: powder puff olympics, hall decorating, dress up days, floats which later accompanied us in our parade downtown, class competitions, the crowning of the Queen, an informal dance, the fall play M*A*S*H, and of course, the big football clash between the Chicago Spartans. All in all, it was a week we could never forget!

When we first arrived, we didn't know what to expect. Were there really elevators behind those blue doors in each building? Was there a swimming pool underneath the locker room? Although the upperclassmen tried to confuse us, they didn't always succeed. Sure, we felt out of place, but later on, as time passed, we became accustomed to high school life. We met new people and new responsibilities. Our freshmen year has just ended, but now it's our turn to ridicule the new incoming freshmen.

Underclassmen Activity Survey

A number of East students, grades 9-11, were asked to participate in a Student Activity Survey. A few of the questions pertained to school, but most dealt with after-school activities. The average results follow. Since little sex discrimination existed in the answers, the results are listed by class only.

CLASS OF 84:

- most juniors snack after school while watching television, M-TV, or listening to the radio.
- more than half are involved with extra-curricular activities; mostly clubs and sports.
- on the weekend, going to games, parties, movies, and just out with friends is popular.
- the most common curfews are: 11:00 or 10:00 on weekdays, and 12:00 or none at all on weekends.
- juniors go to the movies on the average of once a month, and often view one movie three or more times. This partially due to cable television which more than half of the families have.
- about half of the juniors have part time jobs and work close to 20 hours per week.
- more than three fourths of these students drive, but only a few drive their own cars.
- approximately two thirds have only five classes while the others have six.

CLASS OF 85:

- sophomores also tend to snack after school while watching television and M-TV, or listening to the radio.
- slightly more than half participate in extra-curricular activities with a fairly even distribution between band (and chorus), sports, and clubs.
- weekend activities include going out with friends to games and parties mostly.
- their curfews range from 10-10:30 on weekdays to 12:00 on weekends.
- most sophomores go to the movies approximately once a month/ they often see the same movie two, three, four, or even more times; two thirds of their families have cable television.
- less than one third have part time jobs, and those that do usually work less than 20 hours per week.
- less than half of the sophomores drive and nine out of ten drive their parents cars.
- approximately three fifths take six classes; the others take five.

CLASS OF 86:

- the most popular things to do after school are snacking, watching television, and watching M-TV.
- about two thirds of the freshmen are involved in extra-curricular activities such as band (or chorus), sports, and clubs.
- common weekend activities are: going to games, parties and movies, or just out with friends.
- freshmen curfews range from 10-10:30 on weekdays to 11:30-12:00 on weekends.
- over half go to the movies once a month and often view the same movie three or more times mostly with the aid of cable television which is in two thirds of the homes.
- almost no freshmen have jobs aside from babysitting, etc. less than 10 hours per week.
- about three fourths have six classes and the other fourth have five.

In Memory Of . . .

Blanche Lucas

Blanche Lucas had been a business teacher in District 201 since the early 1960's. She was a native of West Frandfort, Illinois, and previously taught at Marion High School in southern Illinois before joining the faculty at Belleville West. When the East High School was opened, she was one of the charter members of the business faculty. She taught at East until her death in 1982.

Miss Lucas was a very devoted family person. She enjoyed sports — especially basketball, and one of her favorite hobbies was watching soap operas on television. Beginning shorthand was her favorite subject. Her whole life was devoted to teaching. She will be sorely missed.

February 5, 1983

It was a wintery cold and grey Saturday.
The snow was to fall, when I got a call,
A friend had passed away, was the bitter news.
My mind searched, only to find it blank.
My heart sank as I felt the blues,
And I asked myself, "Why, why did he die?"
I often could hear him fighting his daily battles,
And with his loving family and his caring God he took a stand.
He strived for the best.
Living through pain to no rest.
And I asked myself, "Why, why did he die?"
He couldn't get enough of life.
Very active in school he was.
Class president, math team, student council,
But he was more than that.
He was a friend to all.
Saying "hi" to everyone he saw.
And I asked myself, "Why, why did he die?"
February 5, 1983, was his happiest day.
No longer did he have to fight.
Though we can't accept that death of a friend, we say
It was the will of God, the way, the truth, and the light.
I say to you, my friends, Kenny is in God's hands,
And what a better life he will live.
Remember him, I will.
Ask of me why?
Because he did not die.
-Ben Clark

A Special Place in Heaven

Death a painful loss
Wishing their lives would never end
But it's especially hard on everyone
When it's the death of a special friend

A life that was full of happiness
And a smile as bright as the sun
Our friend will never be forgotten
In our hearts, he lives forever on

All the tears we've cried
And the pain that we've been through
A sad loss for everyone
But in your prayers he'll be there to comfort you

God will guard and keep him
Within his love each day
But he will be there with us
Every step of the way

The days slowly pass by now
In the death of our dear friend
But God has something for him
A special place in heaven!

-Barb Harmon

The Kind Heart/The Wise Mind

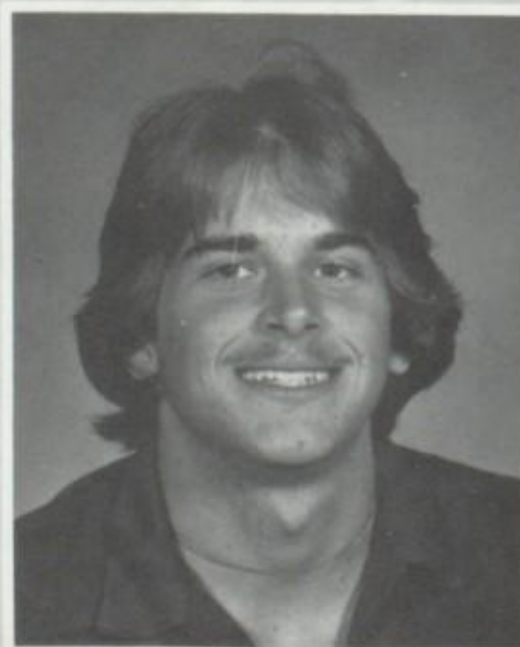

A life can be a silent prayer
That softly sings its hymn
Born a brightness in the darkness
Pouring gently through the dim

Careful whispers at the grasses
It's the raining on the drought
But no one cares to listen until
The candle's out!

Editor's Revenge

Well, here's my chance, I can sit down here and tell you how hard it is to make a yearbook, and how much dedication it takes, etc., etc., etc., ... Even though it's all true, I'll spare you all from reading it again. I've really had a good time working on this yearbook, and although it got to be a real hassle at times, the terrific staff I had to work with always came through. Well guys, we did it!!! Another yearbook is out and the whole school is looking at it. I hope you're as proud of this book as I am. It's pretty neat to realize how many memories we've created. I just want to thank all of you for putting up with me in my good moods and bad. I hope I was there when you needed me for help, you were always there when I needed you. We've made it through two whole years without making any enemies or driving each other up the walls (at least not for very long!). I wish you all the best of luck in all you do. I don't know how many of you I will see after this year, I just pray that God is with you and that you get everything out of life that you want. For all of you that are staying and are going to work on the yearbook next year, all I can say is ... GOOD LUCK!!!!!!!
